No. 35

MANUFACTURERS

Leaving Chicago. Labor Troubles and Increased Cost of Production the Cause.

CONDITIONS HAVE GROWN INTOLERABLE.

(Chicago Record-Herald Aug. 21.)

The announcement of Rand, McNally & Co. that it intended to move a portion of its plant from Chicago was followed by statements yesterday from other firms which are seeking new locations. Unreasonable wage schedules, labor difficulties, high rent, taxes and cartage rates considered extortionate, which have been increased 44.9 per cent in the last year, are given as reasons for the transfer of plants which have grown up in the city and have been enlarged with advancing years.

Besides Rand, McNally & Co. it is announced that the following firms either have removed or intend to remove their plants shortly to smaller towns:

Atlas Furniture Company, 50 Frank street, to Muskegon, Mich.

Ross-Sellinger Glove Company, to Sheboygan, Mich.

Burnam Brothers, glove manufacturers, to Muskegon, Mich.

Charles Maurer, glove manufacturers, 685 Ahland avenue, to Menomonee Falls, Wis.

Vassar Underwear Company, to Roselle, Ill.

Poole Brothers, railroad printers, to Holland, Mich.

William Omer & Co., 88 E. Elton avenue, shoe manufacturers, to Dixon, Ill.

MANY PLANTS TO MOVE.

Four clothing manufacturers and four sheet metal firms are said to be preparing to seek locations in other cities, while other firms, notably the Allis-Chalmers Company, have abandoned the erection of big editions to their plants. A representative of one of the large associations in this city said that at least seventy-five big plants would probably leave the city before the year closed in the hope of securing better labor conditions.

Kentucky Soldiers Fined.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 22.—The finding of the regimental court-martial held here this week on Capt. Maddox of Newcastle, Lieut. S. Blakely of Covington, and Lieut. Jeff Downing of Lexington, resulted in heavy fines in each case and a reprimand for Blakely. Downing was charged with allowing Doug Hays, a Hargis Henchman, to accompany him to Lexington wearing a soldier's uniform and going with Hays to the county jail where they asked permission to see Court Jett and Tom White, the assassins confined there. Downing pleaded not guilty, but was fined $15. Capt. Maddox and Lieut. Blakely were charged with having given their men liquor, making them drunk and disorderly, returning from fend service at Jackson. Maddox was fined $10 and Blakely $25 and ordered reprimanded by the commanding officer. If the fines are not paid within thirty days the officers are to be dismissed from the service.

An Oklahoma poet has improved on poor Richard. He says:

"Early to bed and early to rise
Does very well for sick folks and guys.
But it makes a man miss all the fun till he dies,
And joins the stiff that have gone to the skies.
Go to bed when you please,
And lie at your ease.
You'll die just the same with some Latin disease."

NEW FLOUR MACHINE

Said to Have Been Sold for Enormous Price by Owensboro Men.

Owensboro, Ky., August 26.—Messrs. L. J. Freeman, Little and Nat Alsop are home, after spending two months in the interest of a flour refining machine which Mr. Alsop has patented. It is said that they have disposed of the United States rights on the patent for $15,000, and the Canadian rights for $200,000. The machine weighs 1,800 pounds and was constructed in the laboratory of Mr. Alsop on his farm. Flour is treated by an electrical process which changes it from a second and third-grade to a first-grade. The machine is pronounced by millers to be one of the greatest inventions ever made for the treatment of flour.

A Department of Mining.

It is understood that President Roosevelt favors the creation of a department of mining, with its head in the cabinet. The secretary of the treasury and the director of the mint, so report says, will speak in advocacy of that project at the coming American mining congress, which will open at Deadwood, S. D., on September 7. Of course, the meeting of that body will arouse a good deal of interest throughout the country. All the recent annual gatherings of the mining interests have been reported fully in the newspapers.

The fact that a cabinet department has recently been created is no argument against erecting one for the mining interest. Only four men—the heads of the state, the treasury and the war departments and the attorney general—sat at the council table of President Washington. The cabinet has been enlarged since then through the creation of a navy department in John Adams' days, through the elevation of the postmaster general to full executive rank in Jackson's time and through the establishment of a department of the interior in Taylor's days, a department of agriculture in Cleveland's and a department of commerce and labor in Roosevelt's.

Thus the cabinet posts have been a little more than doubled since Washington's time, the four posts of that day growing into the nine at present. Of course, the expansion of the country in population has been many times as great as that, while the growth in its activities and wealth has been far greater than its increase in population. The output of the American mining industry in all its features amounts to very much more than $1,000,000,000 a year, and it is growing with great rapidity. While the dignity of that great activity will not be heightened by the creation of a department of mining, with its head in the cabinet, there is no doubt that such a department, with a capable man in charge, would be able to contribute something to its extent and country's industrial economy.—Globe-Democrat.

A young Oklahoma man went to church with his best girl. Both were quite handsome and modest. When the collection was being taken up the young man explored his pockets and whispered to the young lady:

"I haven't got a cent; I changed my pants."
In the meantime the young lady had been searching in her pockets and, finding nothing, blushed a rosy red as she stammered:

"I'm in the same predicament."

PROMINENT

Labor Leader Says "Organized Workmen are Only a Drop in the Bucket Compared With the Un-organized."

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATIONS GAINING STRENGTH EVERYWHERE.

Fort Wayne, Ind., August 20.—John C. Mitchell, president of the International stationary firemen's union, is home from a protracted trip in the interests of his organization. During the past year, besides visiting every part of the United States, he has been in Canada and Mexico, and made two trips to Europe. Speaking of his work and labor questions in general, he made the following remarkable statement concerning the movement of D. M. Parry, the manufacturer, who is so bitterly fighting labor organizations.

"I found one thing that impressed me, and that is the value of arbitration. A strike should be the last resort."

"Parry's movement is gaining ground faster than they think, and unless we watch out it will overwhelm us. What is Parry doing? He is organizing the unorganized. The organized workmen are only a drop in the bucket compared with the unorganized. And by the time Parry gets through he is likely to have the long end of it. He has the press with him, for one thing, and every one knows what that means, and he has the manufacturers and employers with him, too."

"Gompers talks about going into Indianapolis and organizing Parry's shop. He can't do it, because Parry's workmen don't want to be organized. There is only one way for the unions to act. They must drop jealousies; they must respect each other and all classes, and they have got to make up their minds to arbitrate."

The Girl Who Works.

God bless the girl who works! She is brave and noble. She is not too proud to earn her own living or ashamed to be caught at her daily task. She smiles at you from behind the counter or desk or a printer's case. There is a memory of her sewed on each silent gown. She is like a brave mountaineer already far up the precipice—climbing, struggling, rejoicing. The sight should be an inspiration to us all. It is an honor to know this girl and be worthy of her esteem.

Lift your hat to her, young man, as she passes by. Her hand may be stained by dish washing, sweeping, factory grease or printer's ink, but it is an honest hand and a helping hand. It stays misfortunes from home; it supports an invalid loved one, may be; it is the loving, potent shield that protects many a family from the almshouse. The writer knows several such noble working girls. All honor to the brave toiler! God bless and protect the girl who works.—Ex.

AMBITIOUS KENTUCKIANS.

They Are Evolving Great Plans for the State Exhibit at the World's Fair.

It certainly seems to have been a blessing to the State of Kentucky that the Legislature slipped up on its World's Fair appropriation bill. Never was a state so tremendously aroused over any project as the Kentucky people are over the plans for a state exhibit at the coming Exposition. The Kentucky Exhibit Association was formed when the legislature failed to act, and by carrying on a vigorous campaign succeeded in raising by private subscription a fund of $100,000. A complete organization has been effected by the association for the task of collecting and arranging exhibits. Committees have been formed to carry on the work of every department. The plans are well advanced, the space secured, the building designed, accepted, and the collection of exhibits begun. The members of the association are devoting their services freely, besides contributing money.

The mineral display will occupy 6,000 square feet, and will consist of exhibits of coal, crude oil, stone, asphalt, earthy minerals, clays, ores, etc. The collection will embrace the finest specimens to be found.

In the agricultural exhibit will be shown grasses and grains, hemp, tobacco and forage plants, leucum and vegetables, and everything else any other state in the same latitude can show will contribute to the success of display. A collective exhibit of tobacco from all over the United States will occupy 10,000 square feet at the Palace of Agriculture at the Fair, and just one-half of this space has been allotted to Kentucky for her exhibit of the weed, in recognition of the fact that the Blue Grass State is the greatest tobacco producing state in the Union.

In the live stock display, Kentucky's exhibit, a feature will be the thoroughbred race horses, in the breeding of which the State has always led.

In forestry, education, horticulture, and in all other departments, Kentucky will have an extensive display. It is safe to say that the placards, "Made in Kentucky," "Mined in Kentucky," "Bred in Kentucky," and "Grown in Kentucky," will greet the eye of the visitor to the Fair at every turn.

The Kentucky building, known as the "New Kentucky Home," will cover an area of 196x108 feet. The structure is artistic in design, and will be adorned with symbolical groups of sculpture. The interior arrangement will provide reading and writing rooms, lounging rooms, a large reception hall, and a banquet hall. The furnishings and decorations and all the material used in the construction will be brought from Kentucky. The building will be an imposing structure, and one that will be much admired, making a worthy home for Kentuckians while visiting the Fair.

PROF. J. E. KEMP

Died in Colorado—Remains Buried by Loving Friends at Odd Fellows' Cemetery, Madisonville.

MASSONIC HONORS

ACCORDED THE DEAD.

Prof. J. E. Kemp, who some years ago made his home in Madisonville and for several years did the arduous work of a conscientious and earnest educator, died in Denver, Colo., last Wednesday night, August 16, 1903, at 10 o'clock. His last days were passed at St. Anthony Hospital, where he had best medical and surgical attention available was had. The cause of his death was a severe form of kidney trouble which, in his weakened general health, he could not survive. Relief was for a time hoped for through a new and delicate surgical operation, but the chances of recovery were not sufficient to warrant the risk. He passed away peacefully, as one sleeping.

Mr. Kemp was 41 years of age at the time of his death, and more than half of his life had been devoted to teaching, in which high vocation he spent his great energy for the elevation of the race. He was born in Houston county, Ga., near the city of Macon. His early days were spent on the farm. After teaching for some years in his native state he came to Kentucky and located at Madisonville about sixteen years ago. Here he was associated for some time with Prof. E. McCully in normal school work. For a time, too, in connection with his school work, he edited a weekly newspaper, known as The Item. His training as a teacher had been finished at Valparaiso, Ind. In the autumn of 1880 he went to Snow, Ga., where he taught one year. Returning to Kentucky the following summer he married Miss Stella Moore, the eldest daughter of Dr. Thos. H. Moore, of Madisonville. They went to Madison, Fla., where Mr. Kemp taught three years as principal of the public school of that place. From there he was called to the city of Brunswick, Ga., where he remained two years. A more desirable place was offered at Barnsville, Ga., in the Gordon Institute and here he taught for three years, and until his health failed in the summer of 1894. His future was bright and assured in the State of his nativity, but his love of his profession and his devotion to the interests of the pupils entrusted to his care had consumed his strength.

He went to Colorado upon advice of friends, and on the beautiful dairy ranch of Mr. I. J. Noe, a former Indianan, about forty miles south of Denver, repaired his wasted health and regained his strength in a few months' time. Temporary business arrangements took him south and he stopped at Trinidad where, in a totally strange place, he made friends and applied for a school. When the awards were made he was surprised to find he had been given the principalship of the largest and most important school in the city. Here he taught for four years. The old love for his work again consumed too rapidly his regained strength. He declined gradually from before the closing of his school, which he persisted in finishing, until the end came.

Mr. Kemp's brother William lives on the old home farm in Houston county, Ga. A sister, Mrs. Dorsey lives also in that county. Another sister survives, Mrs. Joseph Holman, of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Kemp was with his husband at the hospital at the time of his death, and was surrounded by friends in the last hours. She is now with her two young daughters, Elizabeth and Margaret, at the home of her mother and sister, Mrs. Jennie E. Moore and Miss Celeste A. Moore.

The funeral was held at the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Madisonville, Saturday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. W. E. Turner, pastor of the Madisonville Lodge took active part in the ceremonies also. Mr. Kemp was affiliated with the Christian congregation at that place, and was ever a consistent member. Elder W. R. Jinnett, pastor of the Earlington Christian Church, deacon of the same congregation, preceding the services by the Masons, in which he paid high tribute to the noble life which he sacrificed himself for the elevation of his race. Mr. W. O. Overall, of Madisonville Lodge, conducted the Masonic ceremonies most impressively.

LOUISVILLE PUTS UP

THE GREATEST HORSE SHOW.

(Louisville Herald.)

The horse journals proclaim the Louisville Horse Show to be the greatest exhibition of fine horses in the world. The horse men in general regard it the leading exhibition, the size of its prizes and the superiority of its classification giving it precedence over others. The Breeder's Gazette expresses its opinion of the exhibition at Louisville in the following from its special correspondent sent to Kentucky last week saying: "The Louisville Horse Show has entered as a complicating factor, as some leading exhibitors practically lay up for that show, which has taken up the show of saddle horses in the world."

Mr. Chas. E. Braswell writes from Edyville that he has a medal awarded by the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association in 1870 to Hillman Bros. & Sons for best bar horse, which is ready to turn over to the Exhibit Association for Kentucky's display in the Mims and McCallum Building at the exposition.

Who Has Learned?
Will the dear, long-suffering public ever learn wisdom and prudence and become provident? The long periods of zero-suffering to which a large portion of the public is subjected annually should teach a lesson, and the people should rise in their might and change the worn, old adage about hay to read:

Get Coal While.... The Sun Shines!
If those who do not live on a coal foundation had filled their coal bins and coal houses liberally in the warm weather, when coal and hauling is cheap and the roads good, and had not like the grasshopper, filled the summer away without providing against the winter's rigors, they would not have had to dance and burn back fences for warmth during the cold snaps and coal shortages of the past few years, which all remember so well.

St. Bernard Coal
mined in Hopkins county, Ky., every day in the year (except Sundays) can be had at any time, but it will get to you more promptly and in better order and at less cost to you, if bought during the summer. Get wise and barricade against Jack Frost with St. Bernard Coal. Order Now. All Grades. Coke, also, of superior quality for base burning stoves and heating furnaces.

Vice Made Attractive.

The more respectable you make a saloon the more you increase its power to attract and lead astray. The dive and the drunkard are warnings, the "respectable" saloon and the moderate drinker are the attractive examples that lead the inexperienced astray.

Are You Willing?

The man who votes for license ought to be willing that his son should die a drunkard. The open saloon, which his vote helps to establish, he knows will ensure the feet of somebody's boy; why should it not be in the eternal law of fitness, his own child?—Louisa S. Rounds.

Staid old New Hampshire people in many towns which voted "yes" are getting an eye-opener in regard to the practical working of the local option law, and already the prophecy is being made that the Prohibitionists will find their cause much strengthened at the next election. The increase in the amount of drunkenness is marked in all parts of the state where liquor is legally sold under the local option statute.

Judge Leonard H. Pillsbury, of Derby, one of the best known men of Chicago, is well qualified to speak in regard to the matter because of the fact that he is judge of the police court. He makes a statement which will no doubt be read with much interest by readers of THE BEE. He says:

"Our state has been under fifty years of Prohibition and now we are under a system utterly at variance with our past history. And what will the changed conditions show? The criminal docket of the Derby police court shows that from the time of its first establishment, more than eight years ago, there have been about ninety cases of drunks before the court, while within the last two months, since the new conditions have prevailed, there have been fifteen cases—more than ten times as many in proportion to the same time.

Drunkenness Increasing.

"Again, of the thirty cases on the docket for the two months ending with May, 1903 (the era of rigid law enforcement just preceding the enforcement of license) only two were for drunks, while twenty-eight were for other offenses, and of the sixteen cases since that time (also two months) all but one were drunks. The flood gates are now wide open—seven of them—and each one abundantly equipped to ruin the boys of our town who are destined to have the temptation constantly before them for the next eighteen months.

"Nearly all observers agree that there is now ten times the liquor consumed here that was used prior to the passage of the new law. Even the lax enforcement accomplished by the few earnest temperance cranks sufficed to keep the ill-starred bachelors hidden in the rear and out of sight of the boys as well as of the officers. I pity the man who is so nearly an imbecile that he looks to see any of the restrictive features of the license law ever enforced in good faith. Not one of them will ever be generally observed nor any one be as easily enforced as could the old Prohibition law.

"The penalties for the seller who has no license are too severe to ever be recognized by grand juries and there seem to be no penalties for the violation of his license by the licensee except the withdrawal of his license, and this will not often be done, for the same influence which was potent in securing the issue of the permit, will be equally potent in preventing its withdrawal, and the man who does not know that these influences are generally political has simply had poor opportunities for observation or has dreamily closed his eyes.

Properly may pinch a honest man, but it never destroys him.

An Effective Gag.

"The proper study of mankind is man," but no one who reads the following story from the New York Tribune would care to deny that there is something to be said on the side of the electric system. The story was a favorite reminiscence of a former merchant of New York, now dead.

"I was once on a gunning trip with some of my friends he used to say, and in a field close to the house where we slept a donkey was pastured. The animal kept us awake all night by braying. My friends, do what they would, could not put a stop to his noise.

I happened to know a great deal about donkeys. They abound in my native province of Fosen. So I said to my friends, 'I can stop the animal's noise, so that to-night he won't bray once.'

"They did not believe me, but that evening I treated the donkey for his complaint. He was silent all night. The next morning my friend said they wanted to see the donkey, then they would be convinced. They expected to find him dead. They found him alive. A stone was tied to his tail. That was all.

"They could not understand how he had been kept from braying, and they asked me to explain.

"It is perfectly simple," said I, "to any one who has studied the donkey. An animal never brays without raising his tail to the level of his body. So long as it hangs down he will not make a sound. My heavy stone, therefore, served the purpose of a gag."

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirmse, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, Ky., was suddenly taken with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he was taken to the hospital. He was called and consulted. He told them he had a magazine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he thought would help him.

"The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicine,"—Elkader, Iowa. Argus. This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home. It may save life.

Head-Enders on the Southern.

Ashland, Ky., Aug. 24.—Train No. 95, double-header, had orders to meet No. 72 and allow the latter a double-header, at Glenview. It met No. 72, and from some unknown cause started west before No. 90 arrived and collided with it three-quarters of a mile west of the meeting switch. Four freight engines and two cars of freight were badly damaged, and Fireman R. B. Lewis was caught in his engine and his foot was mashed off. No others were injured.

High Gun Trophy.

The handsome loving cup which will be the trophy given to the high gun in the tournament to be held here Sept. 8 and 9 by the Hopkinsville Gun club has been received and is now on display in the shop window of C. E. Wyler.

The cup is of silver lined with gold and stands nearly twelve inches high. It has three handles to represent stag horns and is beautifully engraved. The winner of this trophy may well be proud of his success not only for the honor of the event but also for the intrinsic value and beauty of the cup itself.

A medal donated by the Hunter Arms company was also received. The trophy and medal is now being worn by Mr. A. S. Gant. The medals of gold and enamel and is a beauty. The high gun in the regular shoot each week will be entitled to wear it until the next shoot when it must be won again. The medal remains the property of the club at all times.—New Era.

The Parson's Limit.

He'd been a preaching and exhorting For a score of years or so In a portion of the vineyard Where the harvesting was slow, Where the temporal inducement For his ceaseless diligence Was a promise of four hundred For his yearly recompense.

Unrelenting was the ardor He devoted to the cause, And though slowly came the dollars Still labored without pause, Till one day they came and told him, As he kicked against the pricks, That they'd raised their offered stipend From four hundred up to six.

Then the good man sank exhausted As he feebly made reply, "Don't I pray you men and brethren, Thus my patience overtly, For to glean the four you've promised Hath so warped my vital force And did not see the boy until it was too late To collect two hundred more.

Boy Run Over.

A boy apparently 10 years old was run over and considerably injured Wednesday evening by DeWitt's delivery wagon driven by Leo Herb. Herb and some other boy in the wagon with him said they were looking at some girls and did not see the boy until it was too late to stop the horse. The boy that was run whose name is Smith says he did not see or hear the horse until it was very near him and it was coming so rapidly he had no time to get out of the way.

Mrs. Caroline Daniel Dead.

At the advanced age of 70 years, 3 months and 14 days, Mrs. Caroline Daniel died at her home eight miles below here, at 7:20 p. m., Monday August 17, 1903. She was the relict of the late Callaway Daniel, and one of our oldest and most respected citizens. She was taken with the grip last January and at intervals would become very sick, getting weaker after each attack. She would not allow the attention of a physician during her illness. She leaves four children, viz: Mrs. W. T. Mahan, Mrs. Elsie Robinson, of Earlington, Ky.; W. R. Daniel, of Springfield, Mo.; and J. P. Daniel, of this county. She was a true Christian lady and loved by all who knew her through her long life. Services were conducted at the residence by Rev. H. Patterson, the local Baptist minister of Marston, Tuesday afternoon and the remains were interred in the New Hope cemetery.—New Madrid Missourian.

IN THE COACH BEHIND.

As the smoker I entered
No familiar face ventured
To east a smile toward me;
So into darkness staring—
Into nothingness glaring—
I lost myself in reverie;
Thinking of little Zee,
When I left you long ago.
And was returning to call mine,
Little dreaming that she
At that moment could be
In the coach behind.

The wind that whistled in the air
Might have told me she was there,
The coach behind;
And the porter on that train
Might have hinted the same,
But how unkind!
I was fated to ride alone
On that train returning home,
Oh, how unkind!
Could I have only known
I surely would have flown
To my little Zee in the coach behind.

The new sand house at East St. Louis was pretty badly burnt on the night of the 17th inst. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it seems to have been the result of spontaneous combustion. The damage was something over a hundred dollars.

G. D. Blondin, after several years firing switch engine in Henderson yard, has, upon request, been transferred to the Transportation Department. Geo. Holloway, a road fireman on the St. Louis Division, who lives at Henderson, has been given Blondin's place as switch fireman.

While Paul Green, a young lad of Decatur, Ala., was riding on some cars loaded with lumber in East St. Louis yard on the 17th, the lumber shifted, catching his leg and bruising it to such an extent that he had to be taken to the hospital. A boy never learns until it is too late the mistake he makes in boating cars while in motion.

It is said that since the control of the L. & N. has passed into the hands of the Atlantic Coast Line there are now only two American railroads controlled by foreign capital. These are the Chicago Great Western and the New York, Ontario and Western. It is a wonder our railroad magnates would allow even this.

Mr. Walsh had visitors last week in the persons of Charles Forbes, traveling engineer, Chas. Schwab, general foreman, and Wm. Toelle, general foreman of car repairers, all of the Southern Railroad at Princeton, Ind. Their object was to see what their neighbors are doing, and at the same time gather a few pointers. They were full of compliments for the Howell shops.

The management has made arrangement to begin work rebuilding some of the spans to its bridge over the Cumberland river at Clarksville, Tenn., so as to accommodate the heavier engines that are to be placed on the Memphis line. This work will interfere with the navigation on the Cumberland river, and the United States government has granted permission to stop navigation for the period of six weeks for this purpose. However, the stage of water being very low at this time, the running of boats will not be materially interfered with by this work.

The coal train was put on between E. St. Louis and Mascoutah Monday morning. Mr. Walsh intends to put on the best 600-class engine available on this train, which will be the 607 now in shops undergoing general repairs.

Chas. Felsted, a boilermaker at Howell, is off on a leave of absence. He is visiting at Carmi with his family.

While Sebastian Reitz was engaged in digging a large sewer, extending from one side of the foundation of the new round house at Howell, last Monday a week ago, the earth suddenly caved in upon him. Willing hands hurriedly threw back the debris that pinned him down, but their heroic efforts [at rescue] did not save his life. He was badly crushed about the head and face and was internally injured. He died at the Deaconess hospital without retaining consciousness.

O. E. Palmer, machinist helper at Howell is spending a week in E. St. Louis.

Owing to the fact that most of the cars in coal service do not reach Earlington, nor Nashville, and consequently do not receive the attention due them, the Management has decided to put an increased force of inspectors on at Guthrie, which is the most likely place to catch all the cars in this service. There will be an inspector and helper during the day, and also an inspector and helper at night.

Mrs. Stacer Carter of Howell went to Mt. Vernon, Ill., Sunday to attend the wedding of her sister-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Attwood of Howell are spending a few days this week at Dawson Springs. Mr. Attwood is chief clerk in the master mechanic's office.

C. L. Whittenburgen, who has for number of years served the L. & N. as millwright at Howell, has resigned on account of ill health. He will go to Los Angeles, Cal., in the hope of finding relief.

A small wreck occurred in Guthrie yard Monday, necessitating sending the wrecker to that place.

John Herb, who has been firing out of Princeton, Ind., will go to braking on the Henderson Division in a few days.

John Hanley, fireman of Nashville terminal, was in Earlington last Wednesday and Thursday visiting W. A. Goff and attending court at Madisonville with Engineer Boxley. Hanley was an old Henderson Division fireman a while back.

It is rumored that three new railroad lines are to be built into Paducah in the "next year or two." Paducah is a pushing, busy city, but rumors are easy.

The scarcity of white oak timber has occasioned considerable alarm to railroads, and active efforts are being made to provide a durable substitute for cross-ties. At Grenada, Miss., the Illinois Central railroad has in course of construction an immense plant for an experimental station to treat other timbers with chemicals in order to increase their durability and supply a new tie to take the place of the almost extinct growth of white oak.

An officer in the forestry bureau of the department of agriculture at Washington has been assigned to the South to conduct the experiments that will be made on various timbers. The railroads in the United States annually lay 110,000,000 new white oak cross-ties, and the supply is failing to meet the demand. Steel ties, paper ties and other substitutes have been manufactured, and tried with very unsatisfactory results. The railroads have decided that timber makes the only satisfactory cross-tie.

The Illinois Central and the Frisco railroads have decided to make thorough tests, and if the experiments projected prove satisfactory a new and important phase will be added to the timber industry of the South. Both railroads have been in conference with the bureau of forestry for several months. They have secured a corps of experts to go South and assist in the tests and experiments. Branch experimental stations have been established at Sturgis, Miss.; Kosciusko, Miss.; Black Rock, Ark.; Portia, Ark.; Clinton, Ky., and Obion, Tenn., where material is being received. Pine, red oak, beech and red gum are the timbers that will mostly be experimented upon. There is a vast quantity of this timber in the South, for which there is little demand and small price.—Globe-Democrat.

At Louisville, George Young, a colored boy, employed by the Mammoth livery stable, was fined $10 on charge of cruelty to animals. He was arrested while vigorously beating the horse of Dr. Chas. D. Lucas.

At Paducah The Board of Aldermen refused to concur in the action of the Council in selecting Evanville brick for the street paving and chose Bannan brick of Louisville, which it is believed the Council will also now accept.

At Springfield Edward Canter, of that place, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. No cause is known for the act except that he had been drinking all day.

From Kienmond A. C. Wells, City Clerk, went to Chicago for treatment for the bite of a mad dog. He was bitten some days ago and a madstone failed to adhere.

At Owensboro George W. McMahon lies in a dying condition at the home of Jack Oregon as the result of being held up by two unknown men and robbed of $178 and a gold watch. The police have a clew to the highway-men.

Near Cattlesburg, there is a great scourge of typhoid fever throughout the Big Sandy valley, especially severe in Johnson, Floyd and Pike counties. Numerous deaths have been reported, both of citizens and railroad men and a large number are suffering from the disease, which is of a malignant type. Its spread has not yet been checked.

At Frankfort articles incorporated in the Hickman County Telephone Company, of Clinton, capital $5,000, Thomas Emerson, B. A. Boone, J. R. Scarbrough, incorporators, were filed.

THE RELIANCE AGAIN WINNER

The Stars and Stripes Show to the Front in the Second Race of the Series.

RELIANCE TOOK LEAD AT START AND WAS NEVER HEADED IN RACE.

Owing to Her Handicap, However, Her Appearance Strong Lead at the Start Was Reduced to a Margin That Could Be Counted by Seconds Only.

New York, Aug. 26.—Reliance won the second race, Tuesday, by 1 minute and 19 seconds.

She started 1 minute 24 seconds ahead of Shamrock, and giving 15 seconds' time allowance, forced her to finish 3 minutes 21 seconds ahead of her rival.

This she did, and added 1 minute and 19 seconds to her margin of victory.

The race was far more exciting than that of Saturday, and as speedy, with less wind.

The Reliance crossed finish line at 2:15:30 and Shamrock at 2:30:10.

Shamrock gained the lead for the first time because she was the rear boat, and as the wind was off shore she gained by pointing higher and clearer. The wind shifted by southeast by almost due west.

The race was run in less time than that of Saturday. Saturday Shamrock covered the 30 miles in 4 hours 41 minutes 23 seconds. Tuesday she did the same in 3 hours 17 minutes 20 seconds, showing increased speed with wind of less force.

The next race will be sailed Thursday—straightaway 15 miles and return. It won by Reliance that will end the contest—three out of five.

Reliance covered the 30 miles in 3 hours 14 minutes 45 seconds.

Saturday it took her 3 hours 15 minutes 10 seconds.

The wind was hauled to south-southwest when Reliance laid her course for the finish line, ten miles away. It was a close race, with sheets eased just enough to put the points on almost their best point of sailing. Though Shamrock III was nearly a mile away, the difference in the time was so slight as to make every point count.

The wind held true and steady, and Reliance gained until about a mile from the finish, when the wind slackened off.

Reliance still held her own, but half a mile from the finish the wind seemed to forsake her and the pace became slower and slower, while Shamrock III, with a good wind, came booming on.

She was dangerously near and gaining when Reliance crossed the line. Four minutes and 40 seconds later Shamrock III crossed.

Reliance had won by 1 minute and 19 seconds' time.

Comments on the Race.

New York, Aug. 26.—The race Sir Thomas Lipton said: "You have all seen the result, and the only thing I can say is that it did better than in the last race, which is hoped for. I am sure my defeat at a little more than one minute. If I make as much progress in the next as I did in this one, I will be a bit ahead in the finish of the third race. I was more than pleased with the way my own boat was handled. It is hard to admit it, but the best boat won. Perhaps with more wind at the finish the result might have been different. But I don't want to throw any cold water on the victor. It is hard to win every race in such a series, and I hope our turn will come next."

Capt. Burt said:

"That's number two. Now we will get ready for the third."

John Shaftesbury said:

"We are licked. The Reliance is the best boat I ever saw."

C. Oliver Iteall said:

"I don't suppose anybody ever saw two boats better handled than those were. It would seem, however, that the Reliance has proved her superiority in all kinds of weather and under all conditions."

A HUMANE ACT REMEMBERED

A Michigan Officer of the Civil War Remembered the Act of a Negro Fellow-Soldier.

New York, Aug. 26.—For an act of bravery and kindness performed during the civil war, Daniel Prime, a negro, living at Boston, Mass., is reported to have been bequeathed $5,000 by Jonathan Moore, of Jackson, Mich.

Prime was sergeant in Co. H, Fifty-fourth regiment of Massachusetts volunteers, a real negro regiment, and Moore was a first lieutenant in the Eleventh Michigan volunteers. Both regiments participated in the capture of Fort Sumter. Lieut. Moore was one of his legs shattered and lay bleeding to death, when Prime took his horse pieces, tightly bound the injured leg and carried the helpless man to a place of safety.

Another Victim of Extreme Heat.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 26.—Tuesday was the third day of the extreme heat in central Illinois. Another prostration occurred, Mrs. George Foreman, of McLean, being stricken, and it is feared fatally, paralysis resulting.

THE HUMBERTS CONVICTED

Notorious French Swindlers Are Found Guilty and Sentenced.

Woman Who Was Center of Interest Displayed Court Interest—Survived Crowd with Scorn.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Mme. Therese Humbert, her husband, Frederic, and her brother, the notorious and Emile d'Amirac, the famous swindlers, were, Saturday, found guilty by a jury of forgery and fraud.

The court sentenced Mme. Humbert and her husband each to five years' imprisonment and to a hundred francs fine. Emile d'Amirac was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. Romain d'Amirac was sentenced to three years' imprisonment. A minor and Mme. Humbert will undergo solitary confinement during their term of imprisonment.

The expectation that the day would bring the conclusion of the Humbert trial renewed the intense public interest in the case. The courtroom was crowded. Among the throng were a number of American lawyers and tourists, who secured favored places through the efforts of the United States embassy.

The prisoners maintained the same outward aspect of calm. Mme. Humbert walked in haughtily and surveyed the crowd with a scornful air.

GEN. GORDON AT CLINTON, ILL.

The Famous Southern Commander Addresses Grand Army Men of DeWitt County, Ill.

Clinton, Ill., Aug. 22.—The Grand Army post of DeWitt county and nearly 6,000 people gave thrilled attention Thursday morning to Gen. John G. Gordon. Among other things, he said the flag—the Stars and Stripes—is his flag wherever it is raised. On the race question, he said that he was not the cause of the late war. Eighty per cent of the Confederate soldiers were not slave holders. God would never remove the diadem of superiority from the brow of the white race, but the race imbued brought with it great responsibilities. He said that he was a tribute to the power of inherited convictions. The four years' war was fought for the preservation of the Union, and U. S. Grant conferred the diploma.

ROIN WROUGHT BY FIRE AND WATER

The Louis P. Aloe Optical Co., of St. Louis Temporarily Put Out of Business.

AN EARLY MORNING BLAZE RUINED THEIR VALUABLE STOCK.

A Water Tower Takes a Header into a Building Opposite, Sending Thousands of Gallons of Water into the Quarters of the T. & H. Heid Shoe Co.

St. Louis, Aug. 22.—The five-story building at 414 Broadway, occupied by the A. S. Aloe Optical Co., was partially destroyed by fire Friday morning. The flames were discovered by the upper part of the building about 2 a. m., and the first alarm was promptly followed by two others. The fire was a difficult one to fight, but was not under control until it had communicated to adjoining buildings, and was confined mainly to the upper stories, though the lower ones were flooded.

Floods of water dripped down through the three floors of A. S. Aloe company building, splashing over the surgical instruments and rare optical apparatus, already blackened and warped by the fire.

The fire was under control after an hour's fight, interrupted at times by small explosions of flashlight powders and chemicals in the photographic department.

Louis P. Aloe estimated the total value of his stock at $150,000, and after looking over the ruins from the fourth floor, said that he believed that nearly everything was lost. All the stock on the first and second floors was covered with tarpaulins, but these, Mr. Aloe said, were not put in place in time to keep off the water. The entire roof collapsed, falling to the fourth floor. The insurance amounted to about 75 per cent of the value of the stock.

During the fight with the flames, a water-tower on Broadway toppled over, crashing into the building occupied by T. J. Reid Shoe Co., and shot its heavy stream of water into the fourth floor of the shoe store.

Before the water-tower stream could be shut off, thousands of gallons of water poured into the second floor building. This seeped down through three floors, damaging the offices in the building.

Water filled hundreds of pasteboard shoe boxes stacked around the walls of the store and soaked their contents, the loss on which is estimated at about $25,000.

Miles, upon his attainment of a distinguished and honorable retirement after a matchless record as a soldier over forty-two years' service, without just criticism of his official conduct, which began as a lieutenant in the Twenty-third Infantry, and ended as a judicial military disciplinarian and organizer."

CLODBURST IN KANSAS.

The Big Blue River Sixteen Feet in Five Hours at Marysville, Destroying Much Damage.

Marysville, Kas., Aug. 26.—A cloudburst struck this vicinity early Tuesday, causing the Big Blue River to rise 16 feet within a few hours and sending a great flood of water south down the bottom along that stream. Many inhabitants in these lowlands were driven from their homes, and heavy damage to property was done. One death by drowning is reported.

Marysville was deluged and the bottoms were filled with water from three to fifteen feet deep. Fifty houses were almost entirely submerged, their inmates taking refuge in trees and on house tops. Seventy-five persons had been rescued in boats at daylight, and by noon 20 others were taken to places of safety.

For several miles, telegraph and telephone communication were demolished. The water was headed by Congressman William A. Calderhead. Last night the river was falling, although the farms for miles around were still under water for several days. South of here at the town of Blue Rapids, the Blue river rose to within a few inches of the highest point

MINING NOTES

The Kingston Wolf Coal Company which is being opened near Morton's Gap will be ready for operation as soon as the spur track to that mine is completed which will be in a short time.

The work of the new opening for Barnsley mine is being rapidly pushed and will soon be completed.

The Home River Coal Company of Leavenworth, Kan., has filed a petition of bankruptcy. This mine was capitalized at $1,000,000. This is said to be the first bankruptcy of the kind to happen in the state.

A number of colored men of Topeka have organized a company to mine coal in the Indian Territory. The company is known as the Topeka and Indian Territory Land, Coal and Development Company, with a capital of $50,000. The mining property is situated at Hiawatha, in the heart of the best mining region of the territory. This is the first company composed of colored men organized for this purpose in the United States.

The Providence Enterprise says:

An important coal deal is reported to have been made in Webster county last week. The Webster County Coal Company purchased 100 acres of land lying between their property on the Lisman road and the Colored Cemetery. We understand this gives the company an opening to their property near the slaughter house and that operations will begin there. The development of the mine will begin at once.

While working in the Hecla mine Saturday Dillard Summers had the misfortune to have his leg badly mashed and bruised, but with no broken bones. He is able to be around again.

The National Coal and Oil Co. of Indianapolis, which has been prospecting in this county, says a Hawesville special, has pulled up its machinery and sent it to their Uniontown property, where they have recently purchased 1,500 acres of fine coal lands, which contain mines already in operation. Some Hawesville people are interested and will remove to that town.

Coroner Luke Rodgers was called to Carbondale Tuesday afternoon to hold an inquest over the body of Robert Moore, a young man who had been accidentally killed by being run over by some coal cars. He had been driving the mule team which brought the cars out of the mines, and as he was by himself when the accident occurred, the supposition is that in attempting to board the cars that his foot slipped and he fell beneath them. Moore was about 20 years of age and was married recently.

The Oak Hill Coal Company is adding some new machinery at their mines that will make a valuable improvement to the plant. Heretofore the coal mined there by means of mule power. The mules are to be supplanted by machinery and it is said the new process will enable them to get out doubly the amount of coal they are now mining there.

These mines are owned and operated by Mr. J. Trathen and his son, John. They are fine business men and are making a success of the coal business.

The 3 East entries at No. 9 mine caught on fire from a shot last Friday night and for awhile threatened to do great deal of damage, but Foreman Geo. Wyatt succeeded by hard work in putting the fire out before it did any serious damage.

THEY WAITED FOR HER.

Story of an English Maiden Who Had Three Husbands and Has Another on Deck.

About twenty-five years ago there came to this county from Evansville, Ind., a young, beautiful and vigorous English maiden, named Eggestine, fighting life's hard battle single-handed and alone. In search of employment she landed at Rochester, Ky., where she secured a position as house girl at Dick Simpson's hotel, where by her excellent qualities she soon made many friends and admirers. So one day there came a well-to-do widower, who had been bereft of life's partner and wanted another to take her place. He won the hand of the English maid, ere the nuptial knot was tied another nice gentleman, Walter Hancock, also craved the fair English hand, but upon pressing his suit was informed by her that he was too late, as she had accepted Mr. Knight, a well-to-do widower, who had been bereft of life's partner and wanted another to take her place. He won the hand of the English maid, ere the nuptial knot was tied another nice gentleman, Walter Hancock, also craved the fair English hand, but upon pressing his suit was informed by her that he was too late, as she had accepted Mr. Knight, a well-to-do widower, who had been bereft of life's partner and wanted another to take her place.

After fifteen or twenty years of married life Mr. Knight sickened and died and after a lapse of proper time Mr. Hancock, who had patiently waited all these years, again came to claim the hand which fate had years before denied him. He was accepted, but ere the holy rites were solemnized came out own Jacob W. Fisher, then a handsome widower of Morgantown who likewise sought the hand of the English lady, but was informed by her that he was a little too late, as she had accepted the hand of Mr. Hancock. Uncle Jake, though disappointed, gracefully retired, saying he would wait for her.

Mr. Hancock was not a strong man, and in the course of a few fleeting years was gathered home, where in pursuance of fate's new deal, after a proper lapse of time, Mr. Fisher proceeded to file his claim and was in turn accepted, but ere the whirling of time had chimed the wedding bells came there yet another suitor with many shekels of silver craving the hand of the excellent lady, but was informed by her that he was a little too late, as she had accepted Mr. Fisher. This suitor also retired, saying he would wait for her.

And now what shall we say? On the 30th day of last month Mr. Fisher and Mrs. Hancock were happily married at her beautiful home in the upper part of our county. The only sad feature about this continued romance is the superstitious fear on the part of some that it may be continued, since the deal does not yet seem to be closed, as there is still one on deck awaiting.—Green River Republican.

WAS NOT WHIPPED.

Louis Chapman's Friends Resent the Scandalous Reports.

A special from Livermore, Ky., says:

The community is greatly incensed over the unwarranted report concerning the horse-whipping of Louis P. Chapman by Mrs. Joe Bonhomme Saturday afternoon.

The woman was a member of a traveling vaudeville company. The company consisted of the woman's husband and two negro men. It originated in Owensboro. The tent was pitched near the boarding house of Chapman. He and several other young men noticed the shadows on the tent walls at night. They said the negroes dressed in the same apartment with the woman. This reached the ears of the woman and she and her husband went to the boarding house and confronted Chapman with the charge of making remarks about her. She was thwarted in her attempt to strike him with a whip while he was on the back porch washing his face. Chapman is a highly respected young man and his friends are resenting the insinuating reports concerning him.

FRENCH LAKE AND WEST BADEN SPRINGS.

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lake-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid casino one can have all the entertainment and social pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.
